

Roaches and your reputation

At MMS, we understand the pressures of public perception and regulation that owners and managers face when building and maintaining a quality reputation. Sensitive areas like guest rooms and suites, lobbies, kitchens, food storage units and dining areas require specific sanitation measurements and precautions to maintain a healthy environment. Cockroaches can carry a variety of harmful pathogens and can act as vectors for foodborne illness.

Bed bugs are back

Fifty years ago the world thought that it had seen the last of the bed bug, thanks to the use of carcinogenic pesticides such as DDT. These insects have proven to be hardier than expected, and are now making a strong comeback globally.

The return of the bed bug as a common pest can be attributed to a variety of factors that include a ban on DDT, a move away from blanket spraying of insecticides, and the increase in low cost international travel. And while there is little that can be done to prevent them from entering a premises, their impact on businesses and individuals can be enormous.

For businesses

- Customer complaints
- Damage to brand and reputation
- Loss of profit
- Possible legal proceedings
- High cost of treatment

For individuals

- Allergic reactions & discomfort
- Insomnia, stress & anxiety
- Inconvenience
- Risk of taking them home
- Cost of pest control treatment

green solutions for your pest control needs

BBK & Reclaim are new and totally environmentally friendly bed bug and cockroach killers. They are clear, non-staining fluids that do not harm or pit surfaces. Both BBK and Reclaim are applied undiluted by sprayer set on a "fine mist" setting. Our products contain only ingredients that are on the EPA Exemption Lists for both active ingredients (cedar oil) and inerts. These essentially food grade ingredients are classed as "low risk" bio-pesticides by the EPA and, as they are exempt from registration, they do not require federal registration numbers. They are also on the FDA's "GRAS List" (generally recognized as safe) of safe products.
